

JMP Automation Receives FANUC America's Sales Growth Award

May 18, 2016

LONDON, ON – JMP Automation Inc., an independent robotic systems integrator, is proud to have received the prestigious FANUC America's Sales Growth Award at the recent FANUC America Authorized System Integrator Conference and Awards Gala in Lake Buena Vista, Florida.

Ken McLaughlin, General Manager of JMP Automation, stated "Our success has been built on our strategic partner relationships. This award is a result of the collaborative relationship we have with FANUC." Also weighing in on their win was Norbert Boch, Account Manager with FANUC Canada, stating, "I am very pleased that JMP Automation, as a valued integrator, were winners of this year's Sales Growth Award and have been successful in achieving substantial growth in 2015".

This award validates JMP's accomplishments with customers who have benefitted from their robotic solutions experience across industries such as Tube and Pipe, Ready to Eat Food packaging, and select Automotive. Further, JMP's customer survey results on these recent projects have been 100% (as measured by Net Promoter Score).

In order to be considered for the FANUC America's Sales Growth Award, system integrators must achieve a minimum of 50% growth in robot unit sales over the prior year.
